

“Number 387”

Film screening and panel discussion

In #387, a team of forensic pathologists, humanitarian workers, and refugee activists is fighting to restore the identity of the migrants who died on 18 April 2015 – the deadliest shipwreck ever recorded in the Mediterranean Sea - turning
#numbersintonames

25 February 2020, 17:30

University of Westminster, Room RS352
309 Regent Street, London W1B 2HW

Directed by Madeleine Leroyer
Co-written with Cécile Debarge

Produced by Valérie Montmartin
- LITTLE BIG STORY

Followed by a panel discussion with
Cécile Debarge – Co-writer of #387
Emily Knox – Head of Restoring Family Links, British Red Cross
Maurice Stierl – University of Warwick and Watch the Med | Alarm Phone
Lorenzo Pezzani – Goldsmiths, University of London

Sign up for a free ticket on Eventbrite:

Screening supported by

Robert Bosch
Stiftung

